Main benefit cancellations

There were 49,551 main benefit cancellations in the June 2025 quarter, an increase of 3,210 or 6.9 percent from the June 2024 quarter.

There were 19,596 exits into work in the June 2025 quarter, an increase of 1,467 or 8.1 percent from the June 2024 quarter.

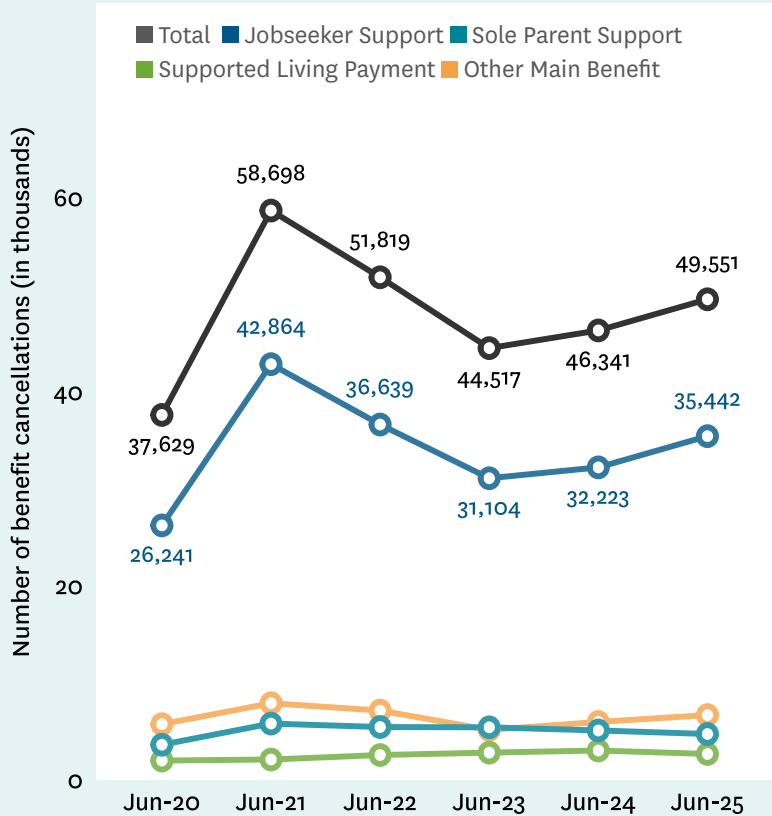

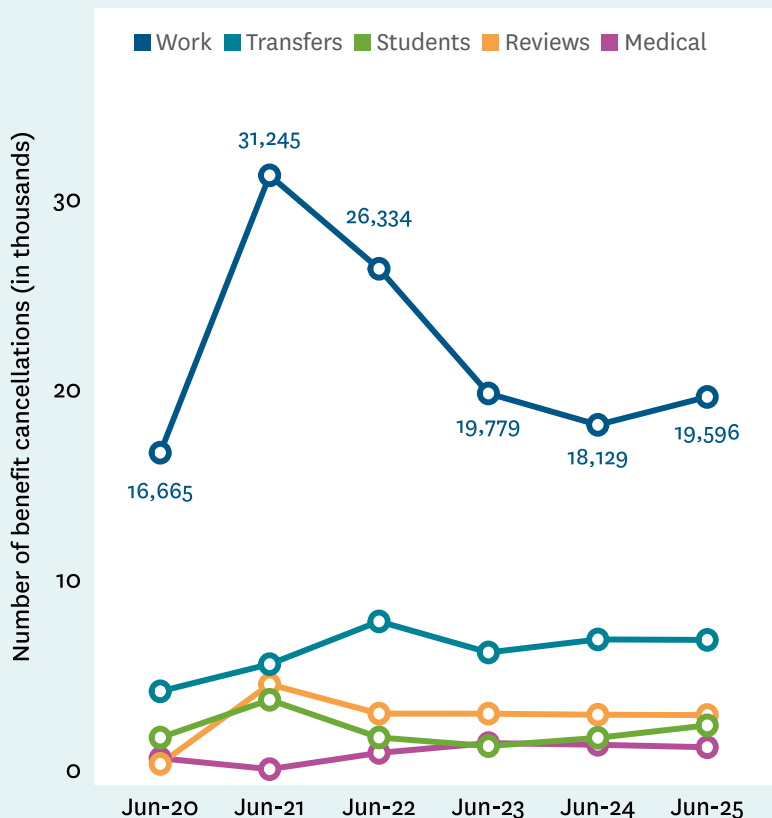

Figure 8b: Number of main benefit cancellations by selected reasons during the last six June quarters.

A main benefit cancellation is the formal process that ends the entitlement to a main benefit.

Benefit sanctions

The number of sanctions issued during the June 2025 quarter was 13,200, an increase of 2,811 or 27.1 percent from the June 2024 quarter.

During the June 2025 quarter, the main reasons for unfulfilled work obligation sanctions were clients not attending appointments including seminar appointments (8,370 sanctions) and failing to prepare for work (3,624 sanctions).

A sanction is a reduction in a person’s benefit that may occur if they do not fulfil their work obligations, work prep or social obligations. Clients have 5 working days to either arrange to re-comply or dispute their failure (by either providing a good and sufficient reason for not meeting obligations or asking MSD to review the decision). Benefit recipients who have not fulfilled their obligations may have their sanctions overturned so long as they re-comply or provide additional information.

The Traffic Light System is now used to track how clients are meeting their obligations. Clients that have obligations and are meeting them are at Green, those who have failed an obligation and are in the five working day dispute period are at Orange and those with an active sanction are at Red.

At the end of June 2025, in the Traffic Light System there were 341,238 clients at Green, 1,911 clients at Orange and 3,729 clients at Red.

Sanctions can affect benefit recipients in a number of ways, depending on their circumstances and the number of times they have had a sanction over the last 12 months. There are three types of sanctions: a reduction in benefit, suspension, or cancellation.

Supplementary assistance

Between the end of June 2024 and the end of June 2025:

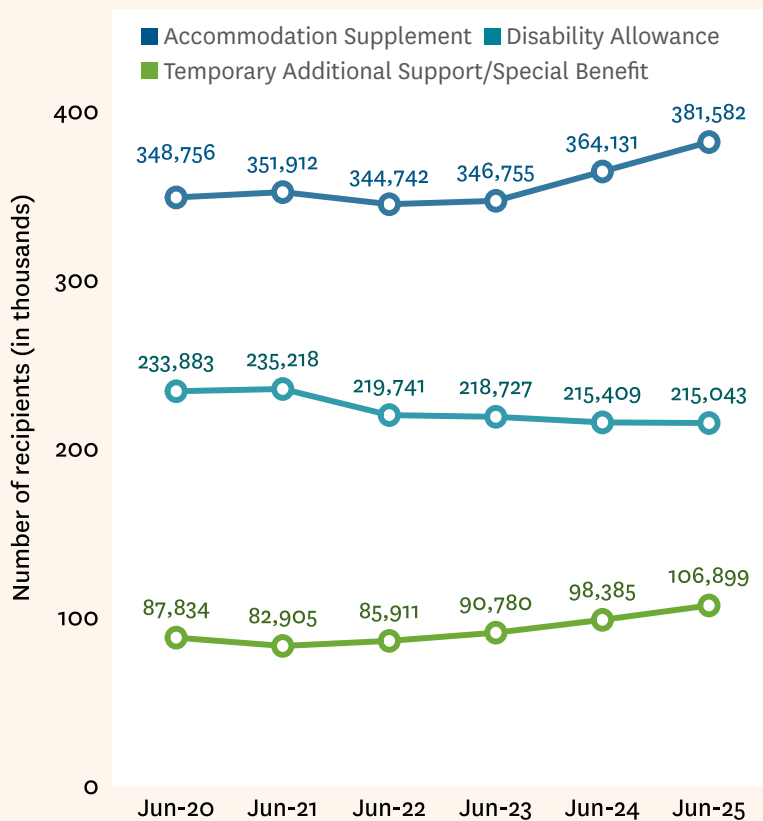

- the number of people receiving Accommodation Supplement increased by 17,451 or 4.8 percent
- the number of people receiving Disability Allowance decreased by 366 or 0.2 percent
- the number of people receiving Temporary Additional Support/Special Benefit increased by 8,514 or 8.7 percent.

The Accommodation Supplement assists people on low incomes with their rent, board, or the cost of owning a home.

The Disability Allowance assists people who have ongoing costs because of a disability.

Temporary Additional Support helps people to cover essential living costs that cannot be met from their income or other resources.

Hardship assistance

Total hardship assistance

During the June 2025 quarter, there were 538,152 hardship assistance payments, worth $169.9 million.

Compared with the June 2024 quarter, the number of hardship assistance payments was 0.4 percent lower, and the value of hardship payments was 20.7 percent lower.

Figure 11a: Number of hardship payments provided during the quarter for the last six June quarters, by type of assistance.

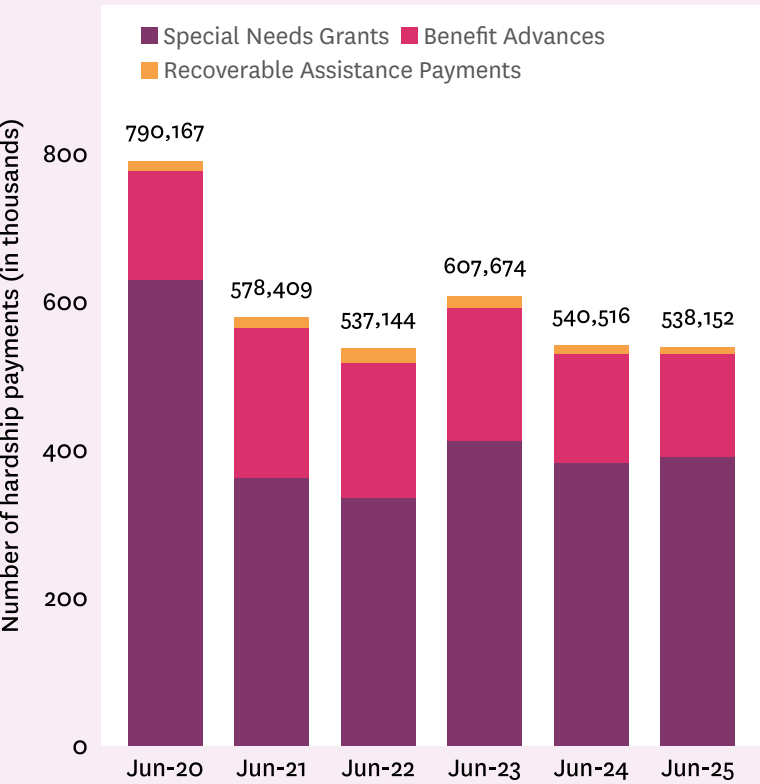

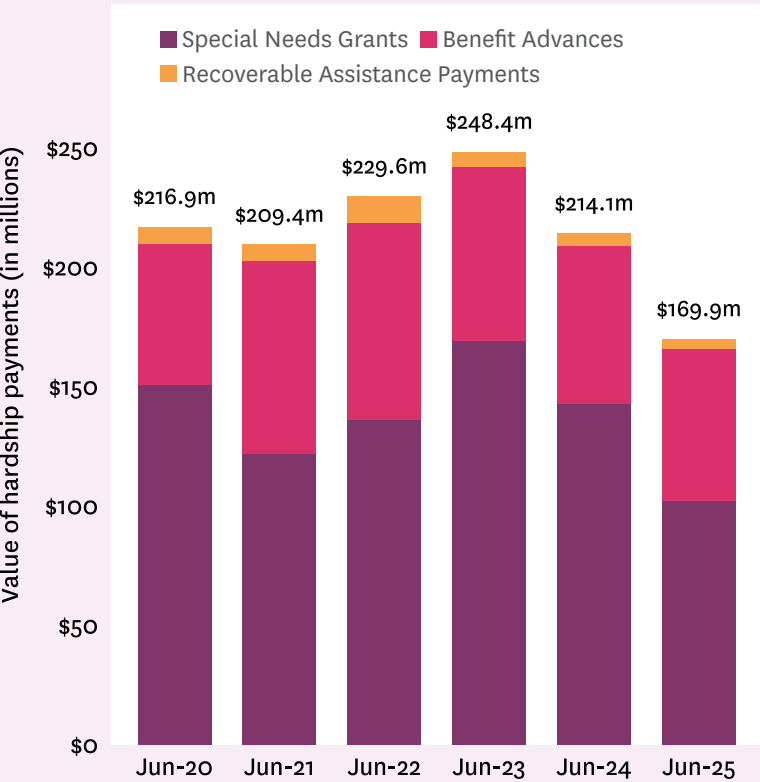

Figure 11b: Value of hardship payments provided during the quarter for the last six June quarters, by type of assistance.

Hardship assistance includes, but is not limited to: Special Needs Grants, Benefit Advances, and Recoverable Assistance Payments. These forms of assistance are designed to help people who have immediate needs.

Reasons for hardship assistance

Two key types of hardship assistance are Special Needs Grants for food and Emergency Housing Special Needs Grants.

There were 304,524 Special Needs Grants for food during the June 2025 quarter, up 13,029 or 4.5 percent from the June 2024 quarter.

The value of these grants was $30.0 million, up 2.3 percent from the June 2024 quarter.

There were 3,831 Emergency Housing Special Needs Grants during the June 2025 quarter, down 13,758 or 78.2 percent from the June 2024 quarter. The value of these grants was $10.1 million, down 83.6 percent from the June 2024 quarter.
